Three From County Perish In Fires

Complete News Coverage of Wellsville, Midland, Chester and Newell

Three Columbiana County residents - an elderly Salem couple and a 25-year-old East Palestine area woman-died today in early-morning fires at their Dead are Gottfried Ryser, 82, and his wife, Martha, 76, and Miss Connie Hickman, 25.

Miss Hickman's father, Henry Hickman, 65, was in "fairly good" condition today at Salem City Hospital suffering from smoke inhalation and first- and second-degree burns of the hand, face and head.

THE RYSERS resided alone in a two-story frame, nine-room house at 403 W. Pershing St. and Miss Hickman on County Rd. 321, between East Palestine and New Waterford.

An unidentified person turned in an alarm on the Ryser blaze to the Salem Fire Department at 3:39 a.m. Firemen fought the flames throughout the night and are still on the scene this morn-

Fire Chief Martin Catos said the fire started in a downstairs living room, but the cause has not yet been established.

Mrs. Ryser's body was discovered in a doorway of their first-floor bedroom and Mr. Ryser's body in an adjoining bathroom. Both were burned, but Catlos said it has not yet been determined whether smoke inhalation or burns caused their deaths.

THE FIRE did heavy damage to the downstairs living room, dining room and enclosed porch and lesser damage to other firstfloor rooms. There was little damage upstairs, firemen said. The chief gave no estimate of the loss, but said the house and contents were insured. Mr. Ryser was a retired crossing watchman for the Pennsylvania Railroad. He was born in Switzerland and came to the U.S. at an early age. His wife was the former Martha Schraeder of New Buffalo, Ohio.

Their bodies were taken to the Ickes Funeral Home in Salem. where arrangements are pend-

Chief Charles Harrison of the New Waterford department said the blaze apparently originated from a fauty electrical extension cord. He estimated loss at about $1,000 and said the damage was confined principally to the living room.

Firemen found Miss Hickman's pajama-clad body on the floor of her bedroom, some distance from the bed. They theorized she was awakened by the fire and attempted to flee, but was overcome by the dense said she had been dead about 40 minutes.

When firemen arrived, they said they found Mr. Hickman walking outside the house, apparently dazed and confused by smoke inhalation. Firemen said the fire apparently smouldered for a long time before it was discovered, causing a dense smoke but little flame.

Investigation Slated In County Home Fire

LISBON - Supt. Robert Boyce said today a representative of the state fire marshal's office will make a personal investigation of a blaze Tuesday afternoon that damaged the women's dormitory at the County Home - the second fire in the institution since late October.

The number of American dead dropped to 40 in the week last Saturday, the ending spokesman said. This compared with 240 Americans killed the previous week, the biggest U.S. casualty list since the United States began sending troops to Viet Nam nearly five years ago.

In addition, 117 Americans were wounded and five were missing. More than 1,300 Americans have been killed in the Viet Nam combat.

The U.S. toll last week was also far below the 70 and 86 Americans killed in the first two weeks of November.

Guard Against Too Hasty Judgment

The two American soldiers released by the Viet Cong - Sgt. George E. Smith of Chester and Spec. 5 Claude E. McClure of Chattanooga, Tenn. - have said in Cambodia that they expect "harrassment" when they arrive back in the U.S. because of pro-Viet Cong statements they have made.

From some remarks already heard here, their "expectations" have basis for fact. Already the words "turncoat" and even "traitor" are being tossed about recklessly. It's understandable, When sharp criticism is leveled against your native land it's difficult to accept quietly and without retort

In the case of Sgt. Smith, however, common sense seems to dictate that final judgment be withheld until he actually arrives home.

It's quite apparent that the Communists have a tremendous propaganda weapon in two former prisoners of war who indicate that the Reds are right and the U.S. wrong in the Viet Nam controversy. And you can be sure they will play it to the hilt

However, under what terms the release was effected only the Communists know for certain. Whether the freed men are speaking on their own and whether their present expressions of opinion reflect their true feelings remains to be determined.

With release from a prisoner - of - war camp in the jungles of Asia in his grasp, Sgt. Smith, or any other American in a similar situation, might be inclined to follow any offered course to assure that the promised release would come

Ponder what you might do under similar circumstances and don't be too quick to judge. If Sgt. Smith, after he returns home, continues to express pro - Communist sentiments free of any possible pressure, then is the time to render considered judgment. Drawing conclusions now seems somewhat premature.

Good Enough For Grandpop

Ohio Finance Director Richard Krabach put a clincher on his proposition for stepping up efficiency in state offices with one comment.

Referring to the importance of being able to sell ideas for more efficiency, Mr. Krebach said there might be trouble with supervisors.

This showed his realistic grasp of a problem usually presented upside down and backward. giving the impression no one understands efficiency except people at the top.

Efficiency is understood best by people who do the work. Every employer who has shared benefits of efficiency knows this is true. James F. Lincoln's world-famed Lincoln Electric Co. was a spectacular example of what is possible when workers, themselves, are given an incentive to be efficient.

The hardest thing is to find a way to take the lid off inefficiency and keep it off. The toughest nut to crack is the supervisor, or even the boss, who says it was good enough for grandpop and should be good enough for the current gen-

The truth is it wasn't good enough for grandpop, either, but he put up with it because he knew it would be pulling teeth to get it changed.

Ohioans wish their finance director all kinds of luck in promoting efficiency by training state employes, themselves, to think about it. He has proved his sincerity by warning them about opposition from their own supervisors

There isn't a worker alive who couldn't tell management how to save money, even if it meant nothing more spectacular than firing him to start with and going on from there to something really expensive

Gone Is The Forest Primeval

There are times when a modern Nimrod, togged out in his field outfit, gun at the ready, is almost an object of pity.

He is all dressed up with no place to go. The fields and forests in which he once matched his wits and reflexes against the instincts of the quarry are gone. Just over the knoll is someone's residence. They've opened another new allotment in the fields where he used to kick up rabbits. An industrial park is being developed where once lurked the wily pheasant

There isn't a place left in his once-happy hunting grounds where he can walk straight ahead for five minutes before coming to a developed property, or a line fence festooned with "Absolutely No Hunting" signs.

Unless the hunter happens to be a man-or woman of means who can travel to some area untouched by urban sprawl and intensive land he might as well acknowledge the truth of his predicament.

A hunter in a modern urbanized area is an anachronism-something incongruous in point of time-something left over from another age.

We pity the hunter in the midst of urban sprawl. But we pity even more the urban sprawlees he imposes on when the urge to hunt down something and kill it for sport has him in

The sprawlees are entitled to the protection of game laws that will bar urbanized areas to hunters. The areas are not hard to define: they are defined anew every 10 years by the U.S. Bureau of Census.

Outside these areas, hunting still could be carried on at the residents' risk. But it is absurd to drift along in the outdated assumption that all territory outside city limits is "open country," chockful of wild game waiting to be butchered by good providers who make it a point of pride to keep meat on the table.

Big business needs senior airborne radar and tenna system engineers, specialist in aeroelasticity, sales marketing analysts, hot shots in mid croelectronicsn test equipment calibration, solid state electronics, environmental vibration and electromagnetic compatibility.

These are a few of hundered of special categories I never heard of before and never will hear of again, unless I thumb through another

This is what they mean when they talk about skilled jobs looking for men while men without skills look for jobs. What is gong on is a catch-as-catch-can struggle among employers with skilled jobs to offer. They are struggling to twist away one anothers employes. Otherwise they would have to train their own and that would take time and money.

The puzzle for the rest of us, though, is how these sought-after people get into the groove in the first place. Remember how during World War II a turret lathe operator could write his own ticket and how few of us ever had known one of these rare specimens?

I do not know and know no one who does know anyone skilled in sensor systems, inertial systems, experimental dynamics, high-energy reentry flow simulation, or trajectory analysis.

If I did know someone like this, I'd cultivate his acquaintance because he is on his way to the top and should send in an application for an interview at his earliest convenience.

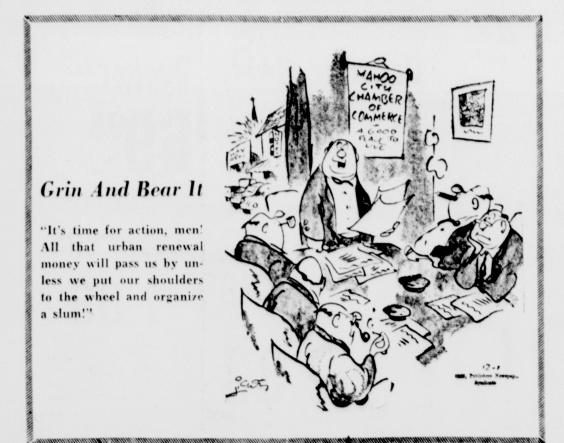

His acquaintance? Their acquaintance. These new skills are possessed by women, too.

"Pleased to have made your acquaintance, ma'am. You're the first human being I ever knew with advanced skill in tool design (jig & fixture, optical instruments, elect. cable, porta-

Klan Infiltrates Labor Groups

By Victor Riesel

Covering the Klan can raise the hackles on the back of your neck. But it's nothing compared with having the Klan hackle you and raise welts on the back of your head Back in '47 I got a triphammer series of such accolades from some Georgia klansmen. I've been following the shroudcrowd ever since on the theory they would sooner or later try to infiltrate labor and attempt mass recruiting.

They have infiltrated. They even have been involved in a long strike.

They are recruiting. Their Victor Riesel methods are smoother and the money rolls in more heavily and they can pay more literate

All this has horrified and angered the national labor leaders who have quietly started a counter offensive, much of which is centered in Atlanta, Ga.

The story of Ku Klux Klan infiltration into some unions and its effort to recruit thousands who resent the new job equality and integration laws would have been told by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. But the hearings had to be postponed at the request of the Justice Department - and one prospective witness, a labor leader who had been brutally beaten and acid-burned by Mississippi klansmen, was killed in a recent auto accident

THE STORY of the Klan strike against a Scuthern clay pipe firm will be told if the committee resumes its hearings. If the Klan probe is never resumed, then at least, let this much be on the record:

Some time last year a small group of workers, in a local of the United Steelworkers which had a heavy Negro membership, decided to break with the Pittsburgh-based international. The dissidents carved out a unit in the plant and applied to another AFL-CIO union for a charter. They got it.

Then they struck the plant. They threw up picket lines. The steelworkers, however, crossed the lines. Since last January, according to the House Committee records, there have been 17 cases of violence.

Part of the plant has been bombed. Nine times, unknown assailants have poured gunfire into workers' cars. One of the strike ringleaders, according to the congressmen, secretly is Exalted Cyclops of the local Klavern. At least one notorious self-avowed klansman is on the picket line from time to time

TIGHT-LIPPED committee investigators will not tip their hand on Klan infiltration in other areas, though allegedly it has developed in union in North Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisana. They want to get their case to the nation if they can resume hearings early in January.

One of their witnesses would have Otis Matthews, late financial secretary and actual leader of Local 5-443 International Woodworkers of America in Laurel, Miss. Last vear klansmen followed him onto a dark road, dragged him from his car, partially undressed him, beat him with a heavy strap until he was raw with wounds -and then poured acid on his body

Why? Because he fought the klansmen's effort to bully the union at the Masonite Corp. plant there. Matthews had guts. He fought back. And then the other week he was killed in a ghastly road accident, which was purely that and no plot.

HOWEVER, THE AFL-CIO national office has its specialist Don Slaiman doing a methodical probing job in cooperation with the federation's Southern Advisory Committee. They have discovered and removed at least one Mississippi klansman who was head of a small central labor

"There are places where the Klan has influence in some labor organizations," said Slaiman, "not much but any bit is too much. We're

What disturbs other labor leaders is a Klan drive to recruit truckdrivers. This developed when some Southern teamsters repudiated Jimmy Hoffa's heavy contribution to the fight on the Klan after the slaying of Mrs. Liuzzo.

More polished Klan organizers have begun approaching drivers with a new sales line. They argued that joining local klaverns not only would prevent Negroes from getting trucking jobs, but would keep them out of the truck cabs now occupied by white drivers

An examination of KKK records reveals that this pitch has been somewhat successful in some areas though the AFL-CIO and the Teamsters International are fighting back.

It's good the fight is being made. One kind of hood is just as vicious as the other.

Johnson Faces Viet War Decisions

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON President Johnson still walks a lonely road while the winds of cooperation, sometimes blowing from opposite directions, beat around his

In the past few days there has been a burst of talk about various forms in international gettogether. Meanwhile, Johnson must make the decisions on stepping up the war in Viet Nam. The picture isn't pretty there.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, just returned from Viet Nam, said "It will be a long road ahead." He didn't say this country is winning. He just said, "We've stopped losing the war.'

This country has about 165,000 troops in Viet Nam. Reports say the number will go to 300,-000. Will it? McNamara wouldn't say. That's Johnson's decision.

ONE OF THE REASONS for this country's bombing of North Viet Nam since February was to reduce the flow of North Vietnamese soldiers into South Viet Nam. But McNamara says now they are tripling the rate of infiltration.

The bombing will be intensified. Johnson must decide how much and where. Critics want Hanoi, the Red capital, bombed. But this might bring Red China into the war. Johnson has to think of that, too

This week the United Nations General Assembly, without one dissent, voted for a world disarmament conference no later than 1967, with Red China invited. The United States and the Soviet Union voted together on this.

But - while this country said it would be willing to sit down with the Chinese on preliminary negotiations, it refrained from saying it would take part in the conference itself.

And one day later the Soviet Union charged this country is flooding and endangering Western Europe with nuclear weapons.

Tuesday night French President Charles de Gaulle, appealing to his people to re-elect him by telling them they couldn't do without him, took a crack at the United States by calling the Vietnamese war "stupid."

And, while assuring this country and his European partners that France was a staunch ally, he warned France would cooperate with them only as she pleased.

A two - week Inter-American Conference at Rio de Janeiro ended Tuesday on a high note of far - reaching proposals which, if they ever became a reality, would transform Latin America into a new, modern and prosperous world.

FOR INSTANCE: a great society for the hemisphere, a halt to inflation, better living conditions, land reform, and a reduction in trade restrictions. The United States took part in all

But this country, criticized for butting into the Dominican Republic's revolt to prevent a Communist take - over, wanted the conference to agree in the future all Latin America would join in such an intervention.

There was a lot of opposition and the United States shoved the idea aside.

Here in Washington a group of American specialists on foreign affairs recommended at the White House Conference on International Cooperation stronger efforts to get along with the Soviet Union. But some of the efforts proposed might damage this country's European alli-

Brinkmanship

By David Lawrence

Viet War Lacks Decisive Policy

Wishful thinking-a policy of drifting on the brink of disaster and yet hoping that somehow fateful decisions can be avoided is what's blocking sound economic development at home and the road to victory in Viet-

Without a compass to steer by, a ship of state cannot find the harbor of safety. The United States today is prolonging war in Viet Nam by supercaution and indecisiveness-a hesitancy to bomb military targets wherever they may be, and a reluctance to adopt the severe measures that alone David Lawrence can win a war.

Meanwhile, at home the administration keeps on spending for programs that are worthy but not imperative. The federal budget, it's revealed now, is to go above $100 billion a year and the deficits are to increase substantially.

The nation understands better than the administration does that both "butter and guns" at the same time are not necessary. Yet no brakes are being applied to non-essential spending. Everything seems to be considered "essential" to get votes. When recession comes and the dollar loses more of its purchasing power, it's too late to try to recover lost ground as the American people pay a heavy penalty.

Concurrently, a demonstration of 20,000 persons in Washington protesting the war in Viet Nam is treated as of little importance. The President defends the right to demonstrate. Although Mr. Johnson has the same right of free speech, he doesn't tell the misguided demonstrators that they are giving "aid and comfort" to the enemy and are helping to prolong instead of shorten the war.

THE TRUE SIGNIFICANCE of last week's March on Washington lies in the impression made on the North Vietnamese. They evaluate the event as a symbol of American weakness and irresoluteness. They don't realize that an intensification of the wary by the United States now may be necessary if only to disprove wrong interpretations. This would mean many more American and Vietnamese soldiers will be sacrificed to prove a point-that America is in

The United States isn't, of course, using maximum power. It's applying diplomacy's tactics of backing and filling. This is utterly at variance with the military rule that in a war the goal is victory. Over the weekend, Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Moore, commander of the U.S. Second Air Division in Viet Nam, was quoted as

"Our targets come straight out of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. What they tell us to hit, we hit. We've been striking strictly military targets and if we expand the air war in North Viet Nam, we would hit military targets we have not hit yet. I do not mean industrial targets.

"I would imagine they would continue to be strictly military targets. This is not an all-out military action here. It's designed to convince North Viet Nam that it's not in its best interests to continue supporting the Viet Cong in South

"I ASSUME any military commander considers himself tied down too much if he dor not have complete freedom of military action However, this is not an all-out application of military power and all our operations are being directed from Washington. They are based upon political decisions being made there. I understand fully the requirements for us to exercise restraint and be discriminate in our military actions because we are agents of an important part of our nation's foreign policy.

The foregoing is the frank expression of a conscientious general in the field. But is the policy at home right? Is it the purpose of war to win, or to wobble like a diplomatic dialogue does? Will not more Americans be killed because of intermittent attacks over a long period of time than would be the case if the war against the enemy were concentrated and fought with maximum power in the air, on the ground and at sea?

TOMORROW'S FORECAST:

HEAVY SNOW, GUSTY WINDS, FREEZING RAIN, ICY ROADS

(SOUNDS LIKE MG WEATHER)

Winter takes a holiday-when you drive an MG Sports Sedan. Consider: front-wheel drive

This puts power into the steering wheels (where it belongs), sends the car arrowstraight to where you aim it. It puts weight over the driving wheels (where it works for you), delivers remarkable traction, even on super-slick surfaces.

Consider: fluid suspension No springs, no shocks here! Instead, a rugged sealed-in system gives you superlative road-holding ability said. Some plumbing in the affected section of the building may have to be replaced, Boyce said. All the damage was confined to the interior of the structure. The outer walls and roof remained intact, he said.

Result: your MG Sports Sedan holds steady in crosswinds...steps sure over snow and ice. There is no safer winter car. You say you don't want one? Then don't take a chance-stay home.

Women who usually reside in the dormitory have been shifted temporarily to the new and old nursing units at the County Home. The dormitory had been remodelled about a year ago.

A fire broke out in the men's restroom at the home early the morning of Oct. 28. It was quelled within 30 minutes after a small quantity of clothing had been destroyed

6 Children Claimed In Pennsylvania Fire

QUAKERTOWN, Pa. (AP) Numbed by the tragedy, a 52year-old father sat in a state police car today and watched investigators probe the smoking wreckage where six children burned to death.

The victims were the children or foster children of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Allen Sr. The children died Tuesday night when a fast-spreading fire trapped them in their one-story wooden home in a rural area near this southeastern Pennsylvania community. A seventh child was critically burned.

Chester Allen Jr., 19, said the victims were his brothers Eric 1, and David 11, and four foster children his parents cared for: Jack Jones, 2; Robin Jones, 8; Penny Jones, 6; and Ronnie Jones, 7.

The son said he left his father at the house Tuesday night and went with his wife, Elaine, and a sister, Elizabeth, 17, to pick up the mother at a nursing home where she worked. Chester Jr. said when they left, his father had been trying to light the furnace to ward off subfreezing cold.

As they returned home about 5 minutes later. Elizabeth said. "We saw the flames going up one side of the house. By the time we got there the whole joint was gone."

Five In Family Killed In Portsmouth Blaze

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)-A young mother and her four children burned to death today in a residence fire on Portsmouth's near east side. Dead in the fire is Mrs. Wil-ham Johnson, 22, and her children Ronnie 4, Bryan 3, Becky 2 and Gregory, 13 months. The father William was at work in a Portsmouth dental laboratory at the time of the Fire chief Anton Staker said exact cause of the blaze cannot be determined immediately, but believed it possible that the fire started from a cigaret with fumes igniting in one of the rooms after the flames spread.

The year-round population of this town at the tip of Cape Cod is 3,400. In the summer it reaches up to 15,000.

Mrs. DelDeo, whose husband is an artist, said many children had been sent home or otherwise disciplined by school authorities for infractions of the code.

"The code was set up to do a good. It has proved to be a misguided conception," she said.

All children, she said, "should go to school clean and welldressed." But, she added: "The idea is to teach a child how to think and how to use his mind not how to wear a pair of

U.S. Stiffens Food Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States has hardened its policy on the disposal of surplus food, largely due to dwindling reserves of wheat stocks and other edibles and a mounting supply of foreign currency that cannot be used.

U.S. authorities, making this known today, said the new policy will affect India, Pakistan, the United Arab Republic and about seven other countries designated as currency-excess countries by the U.S. Treasury. The designation means the United States has accumulated far more local currency from those countries than it can possibly use in the immediate future. The new policy, already in progress, is to receive virtually all payments later in dollars rather than in rupees and dinars. Among the other excess currency countries are Ceylon, Burma, Guinea, Israel, Poland, Tunisia and Yugoslavia.

Coming under this policy will be the proposed sale of $55 million worth of food to the United Arab Republic. The State Department announced Tuesday that President Johnson had approved such a sale and that

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see ... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

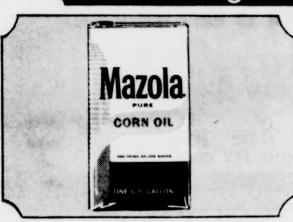

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading - not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

Are "Super-Right" Meats a good reason for shopping A&P?

They're one of many!

Cuyahoga Drops Fee For Process Servers

CLEVELAND (AP) Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department has dropped its flat monthly auto allowance paid to 22 process servers.

The decision was made by Sheriff James McGetrick Tuesday following a meeting with State Auditor Roger Cloud in Columbus. The allowances amounted to more than $30,000

Dropping the allowance means that deputies no longer will pick up $125 regardless of how many miles they drive.

McGettrick's action came after an article in the Cleveland Plain Dealer which disclosed that the practice of paying the flat $125 allowance was illegal.

we press about 3,500 tons of tough American steel into Volkswagen bodies, half the magnesium we put into our engines comes from America. Over 10,000 tons a year. We also buy a lot of machine tools in the U.S.A., our factories are full of American presses and grinders and hobbers and borers. We believe they're the best available, we use high grade American coal, too. More than 100,000 tons a year. In fact we're doing business with American firms in 17 states. So next time you're abroad, and you spot a Volkswagen, remember what we've told you. You'll feel more at home.

A Junior Editors Quiz About-CALENDAR

QUESTION: Who worked out our present calendar? * * *

ANSWER: Men have long used the time from one full moon to another to measure a month and they have also used from one season to the same time at the next similar season to measure a year. The problem, as shown in our top picture, is to fit the 12 months into the year with nothing left over. This can't be done. Julius Caesar, in 46 B.C., ordered a calendar to be used which divided the year into 12 months, some of 30 and some of 31 days, with February having 29 days. This gave 365 days. The actual solar year, however, had 365 days, 5 hours and 49 minutes. To make up the extra time, Caesar decreed that every fourth or "leap" year, one day was to be added to February. Later, the Emperor Augustus changed February to 28 days, with an extra day in leap year. With this change, Julius Caesar's system worked fairly well for 1500 years. But since Caesar's year was about 11 minutes and 14 seconds longer than the solar year, the calendar gradually got out of step with the seasons. In 1582, Pope Gregory XIII corrected Caesar's calendar and drew up the one we still use. He dropped 10 days to make up for the accumulated error, but kept Caesar's general plan. The error of Caesar's calendar which can be divided by 400, like 1600 and 2000. A yearly was corrected by adding one extra day to February in years error of 26.3 seconds is still left.

FOR YOU TO DO: Check your calendar right now and mark off the birthdays of your family and your best friends.

* * * Betty Kalinovsky of Salem, Mass., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
